TRouble BREWS FOR LEGISLATURE

GENERAL POLICY IS PROTECTORATE

DIRECT ELECTION IS COMPLICATED

TO BE NO DELAY IN TARIFF BILL

STATES HAVE FAILED TO PROVIDE METHODS OF SELECTING SENATORS.

IF THERE IS A VACANCY WILL MAKE SERIES OF ATTACKS

Washington, July 20.—Complications are predicted as certain to arise over installation of the direct election method for selection of United States senators. Most of the trouble is expected to result from the failure of state legislatures to promptly provide appropriate methods for carrying out the recent amendment to the constitution for direct senatorial elections.

Leaders of the senate majority are more anxious about the situation than the Republicans. Should two or more vacancies on the Democratic side of the chamber occur, the Democrats' narrow margin of power would be gone. Thirty-two senatorial terms will expire March 3, 1915. Some of the states already have provided a method of popular election of senators, but many of them have not and vacancies caused by death or resignation, may call at any time for a popular election from states which have not yet acted.

Democratic members of the committee on privileges and elections have considered the advisability of having a national law prescribing a method applicable to all states alike. To do this, congress would exercise its power under the constitution, to revise state regulation as to the time and manner of selection of senators, a step which never has appeared to Southern senators. No sooner has the suggestion of federal legislation been made than they entered a protest and the idea has been abandoned.

Georgia Has Acted.

The legislature of Georgia recently enacted legislation in regard to placing the names of senators on the ballot and elected the first senator by this method. The Florida legislature decided it had already sufficient laws for this purpose. The Texas legislature has been called to meet in special session to consider, among other things, the passing of laws for election machinery in accordance with the amendment.

The governor of Maryland has decided he is empowered under existing laws to issue a writ of election to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Hayner. Senator Jackson is now being designated by the governor. Such constitutional lawyers as the senate as Senators Root and Southard are said to doubt the power of the governor to issue the writ and the appearance of a new senator from Maryland to take the oath of office may mark the initial fight in the senate over the senatorial election machinery.

Legislature Must Provide Means.

The situation is complicated by the amendment further limiting the governor's power to fill vacancies in the senate. In the past a governor has filled vacancies occurring when the legislature was not in session. Hereafter a governor may not fill a vacancy unless the legislature of his state has empowered him to make temporary appointments until the people may fill the vacancy by election, as the legislature may direct.

The matter has been called to the attention of the Democratic congressional committee and it may take steps to urge the states to pass legislation as quickly as possible. It will see to it that all the states that elect senators for the terms beginning in 1915 act before the time. Should vacancies occur during the recess of the legislature in states where suitable machinery is not now provided, it is understood the committee would at once urge the convening of the state legislatures to authorize the governor to appoint and to provide for the placing of candidates for senator on ballots in future elections.

Officials of Madera Lumber Company Make Strong Appeal.

Want Mexican Federals and American Consul to Protect Their Employees.

El Paso, July 20.—Officials of the Madera Lumber company today appealed to General Francisco Castro, federal commander in Juarez, and American Consul Thomas D. Edwards to send soldiers to protect the little band of Americans at the Madera Lumber camp, 200 miles southwest of El Paso, who are reported to be threatened with massacre by Mexican bandits led by "El Mocho" Martinez.

The lumber company's officials are fearing news of the wholesale killing of their employees. They say the Americans of their district are in greater peril today than ever before during the three years of revolution in Chihuahua.

Messengers were dispatched on hand cars over the Northwestern railroad today to learn some news of the beleaguered town. No word has come from Madera since the middle of last week.

Announcement has been made by American cowboys on the Babicora ranch, east of Madera, to Northwestern officials that they would join the lumbermen in defense of the town.

About two weeks ago the cowboys repulsed a Mexican attack in Tiente Canyon, killing nine of the bandits. The Americans in Madera have armed themselves and are policing the camp. There are six families of American

WILLIAM J. BRYAN'S FAVORITE POSE

Mr. William J. Bryan, who as Secretary of State holds a public office, in the estimation of the people, second only to that of the President of the United States and who receives a salary of $12,000 a year, has been obliged to go on the lecture platform to eke out his miserable pittance of an income. This, too, at a time when trouble with Mexico and various European and Asiatic Powers is so imminent. But here is his own statement of why he had to do it:—

"For seventeen years the sources of my income have been writing and lecturing."

"I have saved, on an average, something more than $10,000 a year."

"In accepting the office which I now hold I gave up the opportunity to add to my accumulations."

"I expect to lecture enough to bring my income up to my expenses, these lectures to be delivered during the time that other officials give to their vacations."

"I would be glad to spend my vacations resting instead of lecturing if I could do so without eating in upon the amount that I have laid away as a protection against old age."

CAR TURTLES AT CAMERON PARK AND FOUR ARE HURT; MISS BYROM OF WHITNEY INTERNALLY INJURED

BLAME DANIELS FOR THE RIOTING

Visiting Girl May Die—Puncture Causes the Wreck. Lucile Crippen Sustains Broken Nose—Weesley Downs, Driver, Plunges Into River.

When an automobile driven by Wesley Downs overturned last night at 9:40 o'clock at Cameron Park, Miss Ona Byrom of Whitney was pinned underneath the car, sustaining internal injuries; Miss Lucile Crippen, 520 Dallas street, had her nose broken; Miss Aileen Crippen received a gash under her chin, and Miss Varsa Crippen was badly bruised. Downs was thrown free of the machine and was merely bruised. Miss Byrom is visiting the Crippen family, the other young women are daughters of J. C. Crippen, 529 Dallas street.

The car turtled at the first turn in the Cameron Park road near the river. A blowout of one of the rear tires caused the car to turn partly around and then completely over. Downs was thrown free, but seeing the four young women struggling under the twisted mass of the wrecked automobile, he rushed down the embankment, plunging into the river. Just before he struck the water he called out:

"I have killed them."

Occupants of several cars that had by that time collected at the spot, fished him out of the Brazos. The knowledge that none of the girls had been killed did not penetrate his mind for several minutes. He was finally calmed.

While Downs was being taken from the river, assistance was given Miss Byrom and she was released from the car. The other girls were able to walk, but she had to be carried to the automobile of Charles Evans, in which she was taken to the Curtis & Witt sanitarium on Washington street. The Crippen girls and Downs were taken to the home of J. C. Crippen, 520 Dallas street, East Side, in the care of Jim Helmsley of Comanche, Texas, who is visiting here. The young women were immediately given needed medical attention. Downs, however, is prostrated.

Examination of Miss Byrom at the sanitarium showed that she had suffered serious internal injuries that may prove fatal. No bruises were found on her back to indicate breaking of the spinal column. During the Seattle, Wash., July 20.—Responsibility for the riots Friday night in the quarters of the Socialist and Industrial Workers of the World and the furniture burned in the streets, by mobs of civilians led by sailors from the Pacific reserve fleet, was placed on Secretary of the Navy, Daniels, in a memorial to President Wilson, adopted by the radical wing of the Socialist party today. The headquarters of this branch of the Socialists was one of the places wrecked by the mob.

The memorial denounces Secretary Daniels for his speech at the Ranier club Thursday night, in which he made a brief reference to patriotism and denounced the red flag and its supporters.

The memorial sets forth "the Socialist party has never advocated violence and has never done, attempted or even remotely dreamed of any act of desecration to the flag of the United States or any emblem or any insignia thereof."

Is An Issue of Bread.

"Moreover," continues the memorial, "we submit that the chief way in which the national emblem is being desecrated in this and other cities of the union today is by the cloak of desecration and tyrannical abuse of the flag by the radical wing of the Socialist party within its folds, in short, making a lie of its symbolism. We call attention, Mr. President, to the saying of Dr. Johnson: 'Patriotism is the last refuge of the scoundrel.' We have, on the contrary, steadfastly and consistently contended that the issue towards which our activities and our propaganda were directed was not one of flags, but of bread."

Port Arthur, Texas, July 20.—Overdue since noon Sunday, the sailboat Marie, in charge of Walter Richardson, had not been heard from at midnight. It is feared the boat was swamped and all on board lost in the squall that swept over Sabine Lake yesterday afternoon at about 3:30 o'clock.

S. N. Richardson, the father of Walter Richardson, owner and captain of the boat, engaged two searching parties which are now out on the lake in motor boats seeking traces of the Marie and her passengers.

The Marie left her wharf early in the forenoon, carrying several passengers. It is known there were as many as seven aboard and it is possible there might have been fifteen. The Marie is a new boat and was recently launched to do a pleasure business on the lake.

M'NEALUS WILL TRY TO FORCE THROUGH CALL FOR CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

FIGHT IS TO BE ON MURRAY

Terrell of McLennan Opposes Him, Governor's Appropriation Bill to Meet With Opposition.

Austin, July 20.—Trouble is brewing for the special session of the Thirty-third legislature opening here tomorrow morning.

Senator James Clayton McNealus of Dallas, who opposed the adoption of any of the constitutional amendments, has announced his intention of introducing a resolution for the call of a constitutional convention. It is an issue he intends forcing. The result is problematical. Many legislators today stated that it would be useless to attempt such a move.

Governor Colquitt's intention of preferring the management of the state penitentiary system to Former State Senator W. O. Murray is meeting with opposition behind which Senator H. B. Terrell of McLennan, Senator Townsend of Anglin and Westbrook of Collins are the prime movers.

Representative Humphrey may submit a minority report on the investigation of the penitentiaries.

Estimates for a new general land office building have been asked and an appropriation to construct same will likely be added to the general appropriation bill.

May Reject Executive Bill.

The governor's submission of an appropriation bill has jarred the nerves of some of his opposition leaders who feel prone to disregard the measure and take time to work out a bill. This prolonged session is spoken of at this date of from sixty to ninety days' duration. This would necessitate two called sessions following the present session.

The possible deposition of Chester Terrell, speaker of the house, that was going the rounds at the close of the regular session, has failed to appear thus far. Allison, one of the movers, has been quiet and Llewellyn, the other mover, has not put in an appearance as yet.

Blue Sky Laws.

Blue sky laws will be introduced by Senator Durbin and Representative Williams of McLennan as soon as the governor submits the subject. An amendment to the act of the regular session governing mortgages may be submitted. The last bill provided that parties to the note sign it on extension and mortgage companies are asking that a recording of the extension be satisfactory.

The automatic tax board will make no move until after the appropriation bill is submitted. The tax rate will probably soar to the limit because of the defeat of the amendments and the heavy indebtedness of the state.

Five new faces will be seen in the senate: Jas. Harley, succeeding Senator Weinert of Seguin is the first to arrive. L. C. Perry, a new representative, is also on the grounds.

Lieutenant Governor Mayes said tonight that the penitentiaries committee would not submit a bill embodying its recommendations and that no such bill had been prepared.

TO SUBDU REBELS

CHINESE GOVERNMENT IS DISPATCHING TROOPS TO THE TROUBLED SECTION.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen Never Intended to Support the New President.

Peking, July 20.—The Chinese government is still dispatching troops to subdue the revolutionary movement in the disaffected southern provinces, but has not withdrawn any soldiers from Mongolia.

His associates have persuaded President Yuan Shi Kai to remain in Peking for fear he might be assassinated on the way to the scene of hostilities.

It is now generally accepted that Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former provisional president of the republic, who has taken sides with the southerners and is now at Nanking and that General Huang Sing, former generalissimo of the revolutionary army, never intended to support President Yuan Shi Kai permanently, but only to use him to bring the revolution to a successful end.

Ten Warships There.

SEARCH FOR OVERDUE SAILBOAT

London, July 21.—Ten warships, including four cruisers, are at Shanghai in support of the southerners, according to a Peking dispatch to the Telegraph. Seventy-five hundred southern troops have surrounded 1,600 northern troops at Kiang Nan arsenal, and its fall is inevitable.

Charges Twelve Crimes.

Hong Kong, July 20.—Governor General Chan, who at Canton has proclaimed the independence of the province of Kwang Tung, charges President Yuan Shi Kai with having committed twelve crimes. These include the contracting of a loan and neglecting the Russo-Chinese treaty on Mongolia, with the possible abandonment of Outer Mongolia. Business has almost been suspended. There is much apprehension for the future.

Three Are Drowned.

Cincinnati, July 20.—Three young pleasure seekers were drowned here today within the view of many persons who were standing about the wharf, the victims being carried under a coal float so swiftly that any attempt at rescue was prevented. The drowned are Fred Salzman, 26, Margaret Mullins, 19, and Anna Hall, 20. Salzman was taking his new launch out on its maiden trip. His engine broke down and the launch drifted against a coal float and all were drawn under.

With a temperature of 105° recorded at 2 o'clock, Dr. L. Block, voluntary weather observer for the Morning News, announced that it is the highest of any July day in twenty-eight years.

There was a wide range within a few hours yesterday. At 6 p. m., following the wind storm that came up during the afternoon, the thermometer registered 86° at 6 p. m. A drop of 24° degrees within a short time.

Dr. Block believes it will be cooler today and there is a probability of local showers within the next day or two.

Local Temperatures.

Local temperatures, reported by Dr. L. Block, voluntary weather observer, for the twenty-four hours ending yesterday at 7 p. m.: Maximum 105°; minimum 72°; barometer 30.06; humidity 85.

Washington Forecast.

Washington, July 20.—No hot wave is looked for this week by the weather bureau.

"The present pressure distribution over the northern hemisphere," said the weekly bulletin today, "appears favorable for the prevalence of moderate or at least not abnormally high temperatures over the greater portion of the country during the coming week. Over the South and Southwest temperatures probably will be high at times, but not so high as during the week just ended."

"As to precipitation, prospects are not very favorable, and generally fair weather may be expected over all sections except the South Atlantic and East Gulf states, where occasional thunder showers will likely occur. No indications are shown of a West Indian high pressure area."

HAS BUILT BRIDGES FOR TWENTY YEARS

John Burk of El Paso Finds Marvelous Results From Use of Plant Juice.

John Burk has lived in El Paso for twenty years and is known all over Texas as a builder of bridges. He has been connected with the bridge building department of the Southern Pacific railroad for years.

Mr. Burk says: "For the past two years I have lost a great deal of time on account of my health; I have suffered for years with stomach and kidney trouble; my liver was sluggish and I was constipated; what little I could eat did me no good; my kidneys were bad—I had to get up almost every hour of the night. I have taken Plant Juice for ten days. I sleep well, my stomach does not hurt any more and I can digest what I eat. Plant Juice is building me up and I feel better than I have for years. Any man who has to work for a living will understand how I feel after trying so many things and failing, to find one that does all that is claimed for it."

Plant Juice cures cases like this because it is a solvent of uric acid. Uric acid poisons down nerve force, saps vitality and weakens the whole system. Plant Juice represents the best combination known of the juices of medicinal plants and herbs, and is specific for blood, liver, stomach and kidney troubles. Initial statement of policy that would guarantee Nicaragua's independence, would guarantee the control by the United States of that country's dealings with foreign nations and would put into definite terms the recognized principles of the Monroe doctrine prohibiting foreign nations from securing a foothold on the American continent.

Binding on Nicaragua.
It is understood, however, the only agreement on the question of international finances of Nicaragua would be embraced in that part of the treaty by which Nicaragua would bind herself not to "assume or contract any new debt" in the discharge of which "the ordinary revenues of the nation, after defraying expenses of the government, shall be inadequate."

Under this guarantee of financial stability, it is believed, Nicaragua would find it possible to speedily to revise her fiscal system and obtain foreign aid for necessary public developments.

The only specific payment to be made by the United States is the $2,000,000 in gold for perpetual exclusive canal rights over the Nicaragua route and the naval bases in the Bay of Fonseca and three Great Corn and Little Corn islands in the Caribbean Sea.

Nicaragua's finances have been the cause of repeated attempts at negotiations with the United States. After the failure of the effort to have the United States take charge of the custom houses, an agreement was made by Nicaragua with New York bankers, whereby a loan of $1,500,000 was secured and Nicaragua voluntarily placed its custom house administration in the hands of an American. Former President Taft was asked to recommend a competent administrator and under his suggestion W. J. Ham was employed by Nicaragua, under the terms of the private loan agreement.

Bryan Follows Cuban Agreement.
The Platt agreement under which the United States became the virtual protector of Cuba, adopted in 1901, received much Democratic support. Secretary Bryan proposes to incorporate almost without change the general language of this provision in the Nicaraguan treaty. Many Democratic senators declare the policy proposed would be a strong pronouncement of the attitude already announced by President Wilson as to the maintenance and stability of the government in the American republics.

TO BEGIN MEDIATION

FEDERAL BOARD WILL MEET TODAY TO TAKE UP CON. TROVERSY.

Railroads Will Insist That Their Claims Be Arbitrated, as Well as the Employees'.

New York, July 20.—An agreement to arbitrate first the wage and other demands of the trainmen and conductors against the eastern railroads and then to take up the roads' grievances against the men, is the probable outcome of the conference to be held here tomorrow between members of the mediation board created by the Newlands act and representatives of the employees and of the roads, according to prevalent opinion tonight in quarters where the controversy is being closely followed.

Judge William L. Chambers and C. W. Hanger, the two members of the board already confirmed by the senate, will arrive here in the morning, when the conference immediately will begin. The business at hand will be to frame a stipulation agreeable to both sides as to questions to be arbitrated.

The railroads have presented demands for changes in existing agreements with their employees in matters outside the sphere of the present controversy as subjects for arbitration.

Threat of a Strike.
A. B. Garretson and W. J. Lee, the heads respectively of the conductors' and trainmen's organizations, have declared that should the roads persist in their declared intention of pressing their grievances at this time, the strike recently authorized by vote of the employees would be called at short notice.

In view of the determined attitude of the men, it is believed, the mediators will recommend an agreement to take up first the men's demands and after these have been decided by the arbitration body to be selected to give the railroads their day in court, as it were, and settle this dispute in a separate arbitration.

The employees unofficially have indicated a willingness to let matters take this course and it is not believed the railroads' conference of managers will offer serious objections.

OUTWITS THE POLICE

MRS. PANKHURST AGAIN ELUDES THOSE WHO TRY TO ARREST HER.

Decoy Woman Is Taken in Custody and Is Almost to Scotland Yard When Ruse Is Discovered.

London, July 20.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, again has outwitted the police. It was thought she had been arrested last night, but it was another woman, impersonating Mrs. Pankhurst, whom the police captured in a taxicab and took part the way to Scotland Yard. Then they discovered their mistake and liberated the woman. At first the affair was considered a hoax, but it developed into an apparently well laid scheme, whereby Mrs. Pankhurst could escape from her flat by another passage while her impersonator was luring away the police.

A taxicab stopped in front of the building shortly before last midnight, and two women alighted and proceeded to the second floor, where the Pankhurst apartments are located. Three detectives who have guarded the building since Mrs. Pankhurst escaped the riot after the meeting of the Women's Social and Political union, July 12, heard their whistles for help.

Simultaneously fifty men and women gathered at the entrance. A veiled woman, leaning heavily on her supporters, descended the steps and entered a cab. The detectives, concluding Mrs. Pankhurst was attempting to flee, jumped into the cab and ordered the driver to proceed to Scotland Yard. Before they reached their destination they lifted the veil and discovered their prisoner was not Mrs. Pankhurst.

The lights in the Pankhurst windows continued to glow and within half an hour the detectives returned and resumed their investment of the premises. Meanwhile, however, the flat was unguarded.

Lights appeared again tonight in the Pankhurst house, and detectives were in the streets, but all information was refused.

Many mail boxes in London and the provincial cities were damaged during the night, it is believed, by suffragettes.

Railroad Presidents Concerned Over Proposed Strike of Trainmen

WILLIAM C. BROWN,
President New York Central.
SAMUEL REA,
President the Pennsylvania.
DANIEL WILLARD,
President the Baltimore and Ohio.

The three presidents of the most important railway lines, of the East, William C. Brown, of the New York Central, Samuel Rea of the Pennsylvania, and Daniel Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio, were among those who called on President Wilson Monday to discuss the demands of the trainmen and conductors of Eastern railroads for higher wages. They succeeded in having the men agree to await further arbitration under an amended Erdman act before a strike should be called.

Their roads would be the greatest losers by a strike, for the Central and the Pennsylvania are the largest systems in the country. They penetrated almost every large city east of the Mississippi river, and a strike would cause them trouble from which they would be years in recovering.

secondary cause was the attack made on several soldiers by a crowd about a speaker in a street meeting in Washington street Thursday night, which was not connected with the Socialist party, and which, therefore, cannot be presented as an extension of the lawless riotous and unwarranted interference with our orderly and lawful processes, by naval and military fragments under what appears to have been probably foreknowledge upon the part of those in authority.

Concluding, the memorial says: Daniels Is Blamed.
"We, therefore, after due deliberations, place responsibility upon the secretary of the navy, Mr. Josephus Daniels, who is already making efforts to explain, but we submit, Mr. President, that no amount of explaining can restore to us our estate in behalf of moral and physical particulars held by us prior to the disasters resulting from his remarks."

With the exceptions of the armored cruiser California, all the warships which were in the harbor during the Potlatch celebration returned to the Bremerton navy yard. Normal Sunday conditions prevailed, with the exception that there were no street speakers. Mayor Cotterill's emergency order forbidding street meetings was the only one not overruled by Superior Judge Humphries yesterday.

PEACE IN SIGHT IN THE BALKANS

BULGARIA AGREES TO CEDE VALUABLE TERRITORIAL RIGHTS TO ROUMANIA.

DELEGATES TO MEET AT NISH

To Negotiate Terms—Turkey, However, Insists on Designating the Frontier.

London, July 20.—The advent of a new Bulgarian cabinet, comprising a coalition of the liberal groups, seems to have brought a prospect that peace negotiations soon will be entered into. After vain attempts to negotiate separately with Roumania, the Bulgarian government accepted the advice of Austria and Russia and offered Roumania an important territorial concession.

Bulgaria also sent delegates to meet the Serbian and Greek and presumably Roumanian representatives at Nish to negotiate an armistice and peace. It is confirmed from Athens that the atrocities and vandalism of the Bulgarians in the occupied territory make it impossible to hope for a diplomatic settlement and that new conditions arising from the last war between the allies make it doubly necessary for Turkey to obtain a frontier guaranteeing safety to Constantinople and the Dardanelles.

The porte promises not to cross the new Maritza frontier, and asks the assistance of the powers in establishing it so as to secure durable relations between Turkey and Bulgaria. It is not considered likely that Europe will permit the decisions of the London conference thus to be thrust aside.

New Bulgarian Cabinet.
Sofia, July 20.—The new coalition cabinet under the premiership of M. Radoslavoff, liberal leader in the Bulgarian parliament, has been constituted as follows:
Premier and Minister of Interior—M. Radoslavoff.
Foreign Affairs—M. Guenadieff.
Finance—M. Tencheff.
Justice—M. Pecheff.
War—General Vazoff.
Commerce—M. Blatoff.
Public Works—M. Dimcheff.
Railways—M. Morphoff.

Maritza River Is Boundary.
Constantinople, July 20.—The sublime porte has issued formal orders to the army to occupy Thrace and Adrianople. In a note acquainting the powers with this decision it is announced the new Turco-Bulgarian frontier will be the river Maritza. The porte saddles Bulgaria with responsibility for any fighting that may ensue.

The porte's note is regarded as foreshadowing a declaration of war against Bulgaria. This course has been discussed by the council of ministers as

TEXAS STOCKMEN WANT THE HELP

LEGISLATURE WILL BE ASKED TO ESTABLISH VETERINARY MEDICAL SCHOOL.

NEEDED FOR CATTLE INDUSTRY

Dr. Mark Francis, Pioneer in That Section, Emphasizes Importance. Should Be at College.

College Station, July 20.—Texas institutions of learning produce lawyers, physicians, engineers, civil, electrical and mechanical; agriculturists and even cooks. But Texas must depend on Kansas or Ohio or some far-away state for her doctors of veterinary medicine. Specialists who would devote their lives to checking inroads of diseases, preventable diseases, which cost Texas a loss in live stock of $7,000,000 annually, must receive instruction from scientists entirely unfamiliar with Texas conditions and out of sympathy with Texas interests. It is to right this wrong that Dr. Mark Francis, head of the department of veterinary science at the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college, appealed to the board of directors to seek aid from the state legislature whereby a school for the production of doctors of veterinary medicine might be established at College Station.

Will Ask for Appropriation.

The special session of the legislature which will convene tomorrow morning at Austin will be asked to appropriate $150,000 for the erection of a building for the school of veterinary medicine at the state A. & M. college. If this aid is given, the school term of 1913-14 will open with a school of veterinary medicine in full swing. Already there is a nucleus for a fine school of this sort at the A. & M. Dr. Francis and his assistants, Dr. R. P. Hatteler, president of the State Association of Veterinarians, Dr. R. C. Dunn and Dr. H. Schmidt, who has just returned from Germany, where he studied in the Royal Veterinary School at Berlin and at another advanced institution at Munich, have gathered together a museum of freaks and an exhibition of specimens of live stock infected with various diseases that is highly instructive and very valuable. At present work in the diseases of animals and treatment and prevention of diseases is given all agricultural students after they have reached their sophomore years. The work is only elementary, however, and is designed only to give the farmers of Texas information and instruction which will enable them to combat disease among their herds. No effort is made to fit men for practice.

Need for Five Teachers.

To establish the school five men must be retained in order that the graduates may meet the demands of the civil service commission. Instruction will be offered in veterinary anatomy, physiology, pathology, medicine and surgery, looking to the degree of doctor of veterinary medicine. The corps of instructors will constitute the faculty of the school of veterinary medicine. It will be necessary to retain about three new men, inasmuch as Dr. Schmidt spends most of his time in research work and investigations at the experiment stations. Dr. Dunn's work is confined largely to the production of hog cholera serum, a work in which Dr. Marsteller spent much of his time before he became burdened with teaching.

Practically all of the $150,000, if secured, will be expended in the construction of an adequate building and the provision of increased laboratory facilities. At present there is a fairly well equipped veterinary hospital. The offices of the department are crowded into the chemistry building.

Dr. Francis a Pioneer.

If there is any one department which has served the live stock interests of Texas well it is the veterinary department of the A. & M. college. Dr. Mark Francis, who has been revered by all stockmen who have met face to face with the Texas fever tick, a little pest that has drawn annually $50,000,000 from American cattle raisers. Dr. Francis has been a faithful instructor at the A. & M. college for twenty-five years. Fifteen years were devoted to the study of the Texas fever tick and his efforts were rewarded with the preparation of an inoculation that has reduced the loss of livestock subject to the Texas fever tick from 90 per cent to a saving of more than 90 per cent of cattle subject to the fever. Until his vaccine for the Texas fever was discovered the importation of fine cattle for show purposes or for breeding purposes into Texas was attended with assured death. Now yearly these herds are shipped into the state and inoculated and rendered immune.

Not the College, But Texas Stockmen.

"It is not the A. & M. college that is asking for the appropriation of this money and the establishment of this department," said Dr. Francis today. "It is Texas—the cattle and live stock interests. The latest obtainable figures show that horses valued at $100,250,000, mules valued at $70,202,500, dairy cows valued at $1,131,000, other cattle worth $102,104,000, sheep and goats valued at $7,500,000, and hogs valued at $24,500,000, make up a total wealth of $345,056,500 invested in live stock in Texas today.

"With all that wealth and an annual loss from preventable diseases of $7,000,000, there are only 75 licensed veterinarians in Texas. Only that number of skilled men to look after diseased stock in Texas which state has more than $345,000,000 invested in live stock. There can be but little need of pointing out the reasons why this school should be established.

"Veterinarians are needed not only to minister to sick stock. Inspection of meats and milk is a big program in Texas today. Dairy herds are infected with tuberculosis and infectious abortion; the loss from hog cholera often prevents a big profit in the hog raising industry. Packing houses may use only inspected meats; dairy owners must rely on veterinarians to inspect their herds for tuberculosis. Where are the men to come from? Must Texas supply her needs in this line from Kansas and Ohio?

"Our agricultural schools are clamoring for capable men for instructors in veterinary medicine. Experiment stations need skilled doctors of veterinary medicine to conduct investigations in the diseases of animals. The United States army carries on its payrolls a large number of veterinarians. Many counties in Texas are without men to do general practice and the loss in these counties from disease among live stock is large. Here is the demand but from what sources are we to receive our supply of men?"

Guard Your Children Against Bowel Trouble

Many children at an early age become constipated, and frequently serious consequences result. Not being able to realize his own condition, a child's bowels should be constantly watched, and a gentle laxative given when necessary. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are especially well adapted to women and children. The Sisters of Christian Charity, 531 Charles St., Luzerne, Pa., who attend many cases of sickness say of them:

"Some time ago we began using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and find that we like them very much. Their action is excellent and we are grateful for having been made acquainted with them. We have had good results in every case and the Sisters are very much pleased."

The form and flavor of any medicine is very important, no matter who is to take it. The taste and appearance are especially important when children are concerned. All parents know how hard it is to give the average child "medicine," even though the taste is partially disguised. In using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, however, this difficulty is overcome. The shape of the tablets, their appearance and candy-like taste at once appeal to any child, with the result that they are taken without objection.

The rich chocolate flavor and absence of other taste and Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets the ideal remedy for children.

Bomb Throwing in Lisbon.

Lisbon, July 20.—An organized attempt at bomb throwing in various parts of the city early today was frustrated by the police, who had been warned. They captured several automobiles, in which they found bombs, filled with bombs and arrested many persons who had gathered in the streets.

While the police were engaged in these operations, shots were fired and several persons were wounded in another part of the city. One bomb, thrown from an automobile, killed a policeman and injured others. Many of those arrested are said to belong to the advanced radical party.

Some children playing in the streets later in the day found two bombs. A boy hit one with a hammer and it exploded, wounding him severely.

Naval Captain Potts Appeals to President

Friends of Capt. T. M. Potts, late of the battleship Louisiana, have appealed to the president to reconsider his case. They believe he should have been promoted to the grade of rear admiral before he was retired. He has just arrived in Washington from Newport, where he gave up the command of the Louisiana.

It is understood that friends of Captain Potts believe that if the president will consent to go over the promotion question the action of the "plucking" board will be nullified and the president will have the authority to send the nomination of Captain Potts as a rear admiral to the senate. He was due for promotion March 26 last.

U. S. CHANGES IS EXPORTER

Manufactures Are Being Sent to the Markets of the World.

Washington, July 20.—How the United States is changing from a great world market for foodstuffs to an exporter of manufactures and materials is shown in every report issued nowadays by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. The bureau's latest figures show a growth in exports of manufactures from $465,000,000 in 1903 to $1,200,000,000 in the fiscal year just closed, and in manufactures' materials from $405,000,000 to $740,000,000, while the exports of foodstuffs remained at a standstill, $219,000,000 having been the value of the exports in that line both in 1912 and in 1913.

Fresh beef exports have fallen from 255,000,000 pounds in 1903 to only 7,000,000 this last year; beef cattle from $30,000,000 a decade ago to $1,000,000 in 1913; and canned beef from 75,000,000 to 2,000,000.

Iron and steel manufactures exported increased from $7,000,000 ten years ago to more than $200,000,000 this year and copper manufactures from $40,000,000 to $140,000,000. Machinery increased from $51,000,000 to $130,000,000.

WILL BE NO RECALL

Petitions Fail in the Alien Land Law Controversy.

San Francisco, July 20.—The Webb anti-alien land law, passed by the legislature and signed by Governor Johnson more than two months ago, will become effective August 10, without interference from the electorate of the state through the medium of the referendum. Time for filing referendum petitions against laws passed at the last session expired today.

At one time two separate movements to defeat the act were being planned, one by the Democrats, headed by Theo. A. Bell, former candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket and one by the Asiatic Exclusion league which is affiliated with the state federation of labor.

The petitions were never prepared.

Austin, Tex., July 20.—Waco batted Flanagan to all corners of the lot and Renard bounced one over the right field fence during a heavy wind and dust storm which aided the visitors in getting six runs in the eighth. Up to this season the Navigators were in the lead four runs. Flanagan got a triple in the last of the eighth and scored on an out. Waco scored two in the ninth, winning the game, 12 to 1.

Just at a period when the teams were hitting it up in a lively contest, along comes a wind and dust storm that turned the otherwise good game into a farce on the national pastime.

During the eighth inning when the storm was raging at its worst, Howell called the game for a brief period, but started the going again while the air was filled with dust.

When the fans had rubbed the dust from their eyes the Navigators had scored six runs, knocked the ball over the right field fence, gotten a double, a pair of triples, a single, a walk and stole a base besides taking advantage of an error. And that was just the eighth inning. Two more came in the ninth when Flanagan walked three. A sacrifice hit and a wild pitch turned the trick.

The game gave the visitors twelve tallies while the Senators were contented with staving off another whitewash by scoring one in the eighth.

The Navigators furnished the hardest hitting contest seen on the local field this season. Thirteen bingles for twenty-one bases was the best the visitors could do off the delivery of Flanagan and besides he gave six passes and the Senators made five errors, all save one coming in the last two innings.

The pitching of Ogle for Waco was the only redeeming feature of the game. He hurled excellent ball throughout and would have scored a shutout and gotten off with two hits if the wind had not played so an important part in the game. The extra hit and one run came in the last of the eighth. Flanagan laid hold of a drop curve and lifted the ball to center. Hohnhorst came up following Flanagan and rolled an easy grounder down the first base line and the big pitcher scored.

The only persons the onslaught seemed to please were a number of the members of the Waco National Guards in camp at Camp Mabry. They rooted consistently for Waco and kept interest keen throughout. The score: Waco, 12; Austin, 1.

DIVISION TWO GAMES.

Fort Worth Wins the First and Dallas the Second.

Dallas, Tex., July 20.—Fort Worth and Dallas played a double-header today, the visitors taking the first game by a score of 2 to 6 and the locals captured the second by a count of 8 to 2. The opening exhibition abounded in first flying plays by both sides, but costly errors gave the Panthers two runs. In the second game after Veasey had tendered a pass and was pounded for a single two doubles and a triple, netting the Giants three scores, Bill Sorrells was sent in. Sorrells was hit hard and often. For five innings of the last game Ponder held the Fort Worth squad to three scattered hits, but tired after that stage of the game and was hit freely. The scores:

GIVES BOSTON FIRST GAME OF THE SERIES WITH CLEVELAND.

BIRMINGHAM BACK IN GAME

After Two Months' Absence—Speaker Features in the Fielding—St. Louis Is Shut Out.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Detroit	37	58	.389
New York	28	57	.329

Cleveland, July 20.—Cleveland lost the first game of the series to Boston, today 2 to 1. Boston scored the winning run in the ninth when Chapman fumbled Collins' easy grounder. The features were the fielding of Speaker and Manager Birmingham of Cleveland, who returned to the game after an absence of two months due to an injured foot.

Score: Boston, 100 100 001—2 4 1. Cleveland, 100 000 000—1 7 1. Collins and Carrigan; Mitchell and O'Neil.

Philadelphia 2; St. Louis 0.

St. Louis, July 20.—Plank pitched fine ball this afternoon while his team mates hit Leverage when hits meant runs. Philadelphia winning from St. Louis 2 to 0. The locals had men with in scoring distance in three innings, but Plank always prevented a tally.

Score: Philadelphia, 010 000 204—8 15 1. St. Louis, 000 000 000—0 6 4. Plank and Schang; Leverage, Aljison and Agnew.

New York 10; Detroit 5.

Detroit, July 20.—A heavy rain began at the end of the first inning today and when play was resumed after more than an hour's interruption, the diamond was ankle deep in mud. Detroit achieved six errors and New York won 10 to 5.

Score: New York, 200 331 001—10 11 0. Detroit, 000 110 300—5 9 5. Warhop and Gossett; Hall, House, Willett and McKee.

Washington 5; Chicago 1.

Chicago, July 20.—Boehling was in fine form and had the Chicago team guessing today. Washington winning the opening game of the series here 5 to 1. White started to pitch for the locals, but Smith replaced him and pitched a fine game, not allowing a hit.

Score: Washington, 110 200 000—5 5 1. Chicago, 000 000 000—1 5 5. Boehling and Henry; White, Smith and Kuhn, Easlerly.

ting a lead of one run in the second. Beaumont went down before a rally and then lost 1 to 4 here today. Monday's game was played under big clouds and the pitchers will go fishing tomorrow. The work of Eddie Collins for the Bronchos was the sensation of each game. The score:

HIGH PRICED PLAYER.

LARRY CHAPPELLE.

Here is the latest picture of "Larry" Chappelle, the sensational Milwaukee outfielder who was sold to the Chicago White Sox for $15,000. Chappelle is expected to add great strength to the Sox outfit. He made a fine record at bat and in the field while playing for Milwaukee in the American Association.

INDIVIDUALS IN THE LIMELIGHT

TAKE FEATURE PLACE MORE THAN CLUBS IN BASEBALL HISTORY.

SLUMP OF THE MACKMEN

Was Most Prominent Feature of the American League Race—Pittsburg Trying to Climb.

New York, July 20.—Individuals, more than clubs, figured as points of interest in the baseball history of last week. The chance in the management of the world's champions, the Cobb suspension, the return of Ed Walsh to the game, the advent of the latest "highest priced" ball player in Chappelle, the trouble over the Hal Chase deal and the fight about the St. Louis bench at a game between the Giants and Cardinals at New York—such developments were sufficient to keep the enthusiasts from devoting all their attention to the progress of the league races.

The games from day to day brought their usual developments in the way of ups and downs for various clubs, the "ups" coming chiefly the way of the Pittsburgh in the National League and the Washington in the American, while prominent in the "down" list were St. Louis in the National and Philadelphia, Cleveland and Boston in the American.

Perhaps the slump of the Mackmen was the most prominent outstanding feature in the American League race. The former world's champions dropped six out of ten games. Cleveland lost almost as many as the first place occupants. The belief that weakness was dropping in the leaders' twisting staff was borne out by the week's happenings.

Likely bidders for honors against the Mackmen seem to be Washington and Chicago. The Senators all week dropped only one contest in six. Walter Johnson's reported as having offered to pitch every other day after September 1 if his club appears to have a look in.

The White Sox interior defense is working smoothly, while the outfield can hardly help being strengthened by Chappelle, who has shown enough in the few games he has played to make Chicagoans enthusiastic over him. The deposition of Jake Stahl in midseason after the club under his management had won a league pennant and a world's title was a sad commentary on baseball week.

Galveston In Festive Attire For Big Cotton Carnival

Galveston, July 20.—Galveston is dressed in festive attire in anticipation of the greatest, grandest and best Cotton Carnival ever held here. In many departments a stride forward is manifest, but no greater progress is shown in any feature than in the gorgeous civic parade which will be held on Galveston day, Friday, July 25. The merchants of Galveston are spending thousands of dollars to make this pageant equal the greatest mardi gras and carnival parades in the history of the South. Under the supervision of Marion Douglas and Jules Block, all expectations have been surpassed and a delightful sight will be afforded the thousands of onlookers when the sixteen mammoth and beautiful floats pass through the streets. The history of Galveston, scenes of romance and adventure. The management has taken advantage of the most interesting chapters and has prepared this pageant to present the subject of "Galveston, Past and Present." The official program is as follows:

Float No. 1.—Don Jose Galvez: Represents the distinguished Spanish statesman and soldier for whom the city was named.

Float No. 2.—Galveston under Five Flags: Spain, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States are all represented with waving colors, beautiful women and children.

Float No. 3.—Snake Island, 1816: Represents a period in the history of Galveston when the island was a waste of sand over which cannibal Indians roved and venomous serpents writhed and hissed.

Float No. 4.—Jean Lafitte, 1817: Suggests a period when the bold Lafitte and his pirate band were the sole occupants of Galveston Island.

Float No. 5.—The Founder of Galveston: In 1836 the city of Galveston had its birth, when Michael B. Menard purchased the east end of Galveston island from the congress of the Republic of Texas.

Float No. 6.—First Marriage on the Island: Illustrating the marriage of Miss Emily Lewis and Mr. John M. Reed, the first to occur on Galveston island.

Float No. 7.—The Lost Cause: Illustrating the return of the soldier hero and his gallant charger. He is met by the fair daughters of the South, who with beautiful garlands welcome him home.

Float No. 8.—1900: Purely allegorical, suggesting a period when Galveston, with all her efforts, is striving forward with hope.

Float No. 9.—Our Rainbow of Promise: Companion to the float of 1900, showing a beautiful bank of clouds arched by a rainbow, one end of which extends to a portion of the famous seawall.

Float No. 10.—The Oleander City: Galveston's poetical name is "The Oleander City." Hovering above myriads of blossoms are gauzy and glittering butterflies guided by Flora, the Goddess of Flowers.

Float No. 11.—Galveston, the Playground of Texas: Merry bathers, searers, beautiful sea shells and sea nymphs mingle with the sparkling waters.

Float No. 12.—Piscatorial Sports: Lucky fishermen spread and draw their nets filled with the finny tribe, while old Neptune nods his approval of the scene from his seat upon a sparkling rock.

Float No. 13.—Tropical Galveston: A sparkling fountain sends its jet high into the air. Palms and other tropical plants are seen in profusion. This car is one of the most beautiful of the pageant.

Car No. 14.—Greatest Cotton Port in the World: With King Cotton seated aloft under a mammoth jeweled crown serving as a canopy.

Car No. 15.—On the Bay: Making the spectator realize the joy of a ride on the bay. A gay vessel filled with merry children.

Car No. 16.—Galveston Triumphant: Galveston, typified by a stately woman, rides in a pearly shell, high above, drawn by graceful sea gulls, which skim the air.

The cars in this parade were designed by Mrs. D. C. Beers, sketched by Mr. Percy W. Holt of Galveston, and constructed by Mr. Ernest Beets of Galveston. The parade will move over the line of march at 5:45 p. m. The line of march will be: East on Market street from 25th to 20th; thence on 20th to Postoffice; thence to Remont; thence to Boulevard; through south gate of Cotton Carnival grounds, where the parade will be dismissed.

Veterans Oppose Efforts of Colquitt to Oust Daughters

Adopt Resolutions Pledging Support in Fight on the Governor—Thank McGregor People for Hospitality—Camp to Elect Officers in August

Pat Cleburne Camp No. 222, United Confederate Veterans, will aid, both financially and morally, the Daughters of the Confederacy in their effort to prevent removal from the room set aside years ago by the legislature in the capitol building at Austin as a museum for the collection of historical relics of the war. Resolutions calling upon the senators and representatives of the legislature to vote against any resolution or law that might be proposed before that body, which will dispossess the daughters from the use of the room were passed by the local camp in regular monthly session yesterday.

Previous to the introduction of the resolution, a letter from Mrs. M. G. Askew of Austin, a member of the board of regents of the Daughters of the Confederacy museum was read. The letter recited the status of the case with reference to the efforts of certain persons to take the room from the daughters. It contained the information that the camp at Austin had been compelled to resort to the courts to keep possession of the room in the capitol, that an injunction had been granted restraining the dispossession of the daughters as this injunction had been made permanent by the court of appeals, and as a last move the opposing forces have appealed to the supreme court.

Veterans Will Assist.

Following the reading of the letter, Bradford Hancock moved that the local camp contribute $5 to assist in the payment of court costs in the case, and the motion was passed unanimously. Check for that amount will be forwarded to the Austin camp today.

In connection with the effort to take from the daughters of the Confederacy the room which is being used as a museum at the capitol, Commander Seth P. Mills recited some of the history of the donation of the room for that purpose. He said the legislature ten years ago by resolution gave the room for that purpose, and there had been no question as to the use it was to have been put to up to a few months ago. He also said he understood the governor would attempt to have the legislature in extraordinary session at Austin revoke the permit granted.

Following his talk the following resolution was introduced and passed unanimously:

"Whereas, we learn that the State authorities are attempting to dispossess the Daughters of the Confederacy of the room set aside to them in the capitol at Austin years ago as a Confederate Museum" by the legislature; and

"Whereas, it is reported and believed that the governor will ask the legislature about to be convened in extraordinary session to revoke and set aside the resolution granting to the Daughters said room, and take possession of same; therefore, be it

Resolved, that our senator and representatives be and they are hereby respectfully and urgently requested by Pat Cleburne Camp No. 222, United Confederate Veterans, to vote against any resolution or law taking from and depriving the Daughters of the Confederacy of this room.

That our senator, representatives and the press be furnished with a copy of these resolutions by the adjutant of this camp."

Thank McGregor People.

A resolution extending thanks to the McGregor camp of Confederates and the people of McGregor in general for the entertainment afforded at the three days county Confederate reunion held there, was passed. The resolution was as follows:

"We hereby extend to the McGregor Camp United Confederate Veterans, the citizens, and especially to the ladies of McGregor a vote of thanks for their uniform kindness and attention in looking after our comfort and pleasure at the reunion on July 8, 9, and 10."

"We will always look back with pleasure and happiness to the three days we spent as the guests of the good people of McGregor."

Following the adoption of this resolution, John Moore, Bradford Hancock and Gus West, members of the local camp, told of the pleasure they had at the late reunion. Mr. Moore said he had attended the general reunion at Chattanooga, the reunion of Hood's Brigade at Temple and the McGregor county reunion, and that the pleasantest memories of the three were of McGregor.

Both Mr. West and Mr. Hancock paid tribute to the efficiency of the McGregor people in entertaining visitors.

Commander Mills announced that the selection of delegates to the State reunion at Greenville to be held August 7 and 8, was in order, and the camp passed a motion instructing the adjutant to issue credentials to any members who desired to attend. The local camp is entitled to fifteen delegates.

A proposal was made that the camp issue a "Confederate Gray Book," the camp to receive a portion of the revenue from same. The matter was referred to a committee appointed by the chair composed of John Moore, Gus West and Bradford Hancock. The book proposes to contain a short history of the camp and photographs of the principal monuments erected to Confederate heroes and on battlefields made famous in the recent war.

To Elect Officers.

Commander Mills announced that the next regular meeting in August was the date for electing officers for the year and requested a large attendance. The sick committee reported S. E. Carothers and Westley Dodson as ill.

Stephen N. Price, a member of Company F, fifteenth regiment infantry of Arkansas, was elected to membership.

The attendance at yesterday's meeting was the smallest for many months, many members being prevented from attending because of the threatening weather.

GOD'S SIGNALING INGRAM'S SUBJECT

HILLTOP FIRES OF SAVAGES RESEMBLED TELEGRAPH SYSTEM OF PROVIDENCE.

PEOPLE LOVE TO HAVE IT SO

Warnings From God Always Come, but Few Stop to Listen. Fewer Head.

Building his sermon around the manner in which God warns His people of physical and spiritual illness, Pastor E. E. Ingram of the Central Presbyterian church, yesterday outlined the natural foundation of the right living.

He told how the Indians, and even the earliest nations of the earth, used signal fires to warn their friends or other tribes of approaching danger. God, he said, uses the same kind of method to keep man in the beaten track of truth.

He said: "The Indians in pioneer days signaled with fire. These signal fires were used to warn other members of the tribe of approaching danger and to call them to protect themselves against pending disaster."

"According to the text," he declared, "the Indians were not the first to use such signal fires. Evidently they were in use in Jeremiah's day. The prophet, in the text, is telling Israel that they will soon enough have good cause to use signal fires to warn others of the approach of a mighty foe from the north."

Signal Fires of God.

"All through the Bible, and all along the track of man, God has caused to be kindled signal fires to warn man against insidious foes and to call him to meet and defeat the danger."

"These signal fires are on the mountain tops of experience. I shall name but two classes of such signal fires today, designating them, the warning flame, and the pillar of fire. While these are separated in name, they are in fact one and the same. God uses the same thing frequently both to warn and to call. He often makes one thing serve a double purpose, which purpose is frequently opposite in effect. The same sun may melt wax or harden it. By the same fire, steel may be tempered or melted and so made worthless. To the enemies of Israel, the cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night were warning signals to tell that marching host was under divine protection. To the Israelites themselves these signals were the hand of God to protect and to guide them. In the same way God's signal fires today both warn and admonish. God never fails to warn of approaching danger or disaster. There is no need for surprises in life. If one goes wrong, and it is found out, God whispers to the transgressor long, long ago that it would be. Pain comes to the body; it is the voice of God telling the sufferer that something needs immediate attention. Pain is the friend of man rather than his enemy. These warning flames—signal fires—are on every hand. Today I shall let the context furnish them for us, for the ones found there are as vital now as they were then. When the prophet told Israel it could set up the sign of fire in Bethsaccerem he had certain things in mind, which are found in the preceding chapter.

"For one thing, he thought they needed signal fires to warn them against the folly of forsaking the God of their fathers. Little by little he sowed me, and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours. Fear ye not me? Saith the Lord: with ye not tremble at my presence? But this people hath a revolting and rebellious name; they are revolved and gone. These are severe charges he is making against the chosen people of God. If Jeremiah were a correct interpreter of their conduct, Israel at this time had shamefully forsaken the Lord. Hear ye this, O foolish people, and with understanding, which have eyes, and see not; which have ears, and hear not! What a rebuke! He told them why their conduct was foolish, reminding them that their whole history was one of divine protection and care. Selfishness, if not gratitude, and which should have kept them close to their God. About the most foolish thing a man can do is to leave God out of his life and plans."

Another thing, Jeremiah warned Israel against the absolute folly of sin. "Your iniquities," said he, "have turned away these things, and your sins have withheld good things from you." There ought to be in every heart a Bethsaccerem, where a warning flame reminds one over and over again that sin is foolish. At the telling of what his most pronounced sins were, Jeremiah closes the catalogue with this question, speaking for the Lord, "Shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?" Some of the good things which sin is withholding from us are a clear conscience, sound body and mind, the confidence of others, and the favor of God. Are not these some of the most valuable things in life? A few days ago I looked upon the remains of a man who had committed suicide. The reason for self-destruction was evident—he suffered from result of sin. As I looked upon his once handsome face, I caught myself saying, "The wages of sin is death." God's signal fires constantly warn against the danger of sin.

"Along with these two the prophet issued a third warning. It was against the danger of forsaken ideals. Hear him as he cries, 'A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land.' You wonder what that wonderful and horrible thing was. That there must be no doubt about it he tells us. It is this, 'the prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule by their means.' And to this he adds a rare bit of irony, saying, 'And my people love to have it so.' The charge he brings against the prophets was that they had forsaken the prophetic ideals of truthfulness, faithfulness, and courage. The second indictment involved the priests. The expression, 'bear rule by their means,' simply means that they had taken matters into their own hands that they had virtually substituted their own ideals for God's. All along the line Israel had forsaken their ideals. I know of nothing more dangerous than for one to have ideals. It is a day to be dreaded when a young woman lowers her ideals of virtue and womanliness. Sadder than the day of his death is the day a young man lowers his ideals of truthfulness and honesty."

"Such are the warnings of the context. God's signal fires warn against these dangers. They are to be counted among our most insidious foes. For us all He hath set up the sign of fire in Bethsaccerem." But I must give attention, too, to another phase of the text, the pillar of fire. It will be, after all, simply looking at the text from another angle of vision. The same signal fire that warned the Indians called him to activity. God's signal fires are a call to warfare all the time. I shall select one to set opposite each warning flame. For every signal fire that warns there is one to call us to higher levels.

The Inner Light.

"One of these is seen in the call of the inner light. If you know what that means? It has no reference whatever to conscience. There is, in every human breast, a pillar of fire to call one to a higher plane. A little girl asked her father what he wanted her to be when womanhood's estate was reached. When told that she must decide that for herself she said, 'Sometimes I think I shall be a music teacher; at other times I plan to be a story writer, but, papa, all the time there is a little voice right here that tells me I am going to be a missionary.' That little voice, within, which none but God and yourself can hear, that is what I mean by the call of the inner light. Have you been true to it? Are you true to it now? It is God's signal fire to you in the Bethsaccerem of your life."

"Another such signal fire is seen in the call of opportunity. Paul recognized the importance of this signal fire in his day. 'As we have heretofore opportunity,' said he, 'let us do good to every man, especially to them who are of the household of faith.' The call of opportunity obligates us to help our fellow men whenever and wherever we can. A little help given in the right way and at the right time frequently redeems a life. Often it needs but a word of encouragement, a word of discouragement. And yet to discourage and dishearten seem to be the mission of many otherwise good people. No matter what is proposed they must dash cold water upon it. Defeats can be turned into glorious victories by just a word of encouragement. The call of opportunity is a good signal fire to place opposite the warning flame against sin."

"Across from the warning flame against forsaken ideals I want to kindle a signal fire and designate it the call of desire. What are the hungers of your heart? Whatever they are they surely are God's signal fires calling you to your better self. May I tell you why liquor is sold on forbidden territory in this city? Why is it sold at all for that matter? May I say why moving picture shows run in this city on Sunday in flagrant defiance of the law? Why, in fact, there is so much Sabbath desecration? It is because the supposed-to-be good people of Waco desire it that way. It is just as true today as it was in Jeremiah's day, when he said, 'And my people love to have it so.' And 'my people' are the Christian people. Put even the best of us, the good people behind all our laws and they will be enforced. I am not arraigning our officers, but I am trying to put the blame where it belongs—upon the shoulders of 'Christian people. If we really desired Oh, how we are suffering and crying out for help. With all due appreciation of the culture and refinement of this congregation, I am going to make a shocking statement. If it were not for the patronage of church members, both male and female, the saloons of this country would soon go into bankruptcy. These institutions are our black spots, at least partly because 'my people love to have it so.' So for one I prefer to put most of the blame where it properly belongs, and I am trying to do so today. With a clear conscience I can address myself to the more spectacular forms of civic righteousness."

"But do not lose sight of the truth I am trying to drive home. All this grows out of the call of desire. When we give proper heed to that call, we will mend these evils a thousand fold, and at the same time we will give to our authorities something without which laws are practically useless, quickened public sentiment. About all we need to do is to heed the call of desire. God has made it plain to call every one of us to better things, and these better things we will have when we respond to that call."

"The civil jury docket will be taken on in the county court this morning after a recess of seven days. The regular term of court began July 7. Only two days of court were held, however, a recess being taken for the remainder of that week. These days were devoted to criminal cases. The regular monthly session of commissioners' court the week of July 14, prevented court that week. There are several cases docketed for trial today, and the remainder of the week, but because of the extremely hot weather it is probable the docket will not be as heavy as usual."

The court has also made a ruling during the present term that no non-jury civil cases will be called except where attorneys on opposing sides agree to a setting.

BACK FROM A TOUR

REV. J. J. CREED TELLS OF THE BEAUTIES OF YELLOWSTONE PARK.

Use the Great Natural Wonders Around Which to Build Theme of Sermon.

To all present last night at the services of the Elm Street Methodist church on the East Side, Rev. J. J. Creed gave a souvenir of Yellowstone National Park. The services were held under the tent on the site of the new church building which is to be built soon by the congregation.

The souvenir which Rev. Mr. Creed gave to each person present was a piece from Glass mountain in the National Park. His sermon consisted largely of a description of his trip largely of the West which he took with a party of 125 who went as guests of the Southern Methodist college.

He used the great natural wonders which he saw to illustrate the goodness of the Creator. For his text he took Psalm 102: 8, "For, that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and for His wonderful works to the children of men."

"The best things ever learned from the pulpit as well as from literature are from concrete illustrations," he said. "Mrs. Brooking has said, 'The earth is crammed with heaven,' and unless a person is in the condition mentioned in the Scriptures, that has ears and hears not, and eyes and sees not, he can see the handiwork of God in all that surrounds him."

In his description of the natural wonders of the trip from which he has just returned, Rev. Mr. Creed touched on many points of interest that are well known, but the angle from which he saw these great masterpieces of God made them appear in a new light.

He described the mountains and the jagged peaks. On one of his side trips he saw an eagle with her nest on the very brink of a precipice. In this isolated place the mother eagle raised her young. "This could be used as a great lesson to man. The home of today is fast losing its sacredness. The inner circle which should be isolated from the world is becoming a thing of the past. The antebellum plantation, where children were reared under ideal conditions, no longer exists. Instead we have the crowded city with its thousands of temptations."

He saw a pine tree growing on a barren rock within sight of hundreds of others that had the richest soil to nurture them. The little dwarfed pine tree seemed determined to do its part in the great scheme of things, and made no protest of its handicap. This he said was another lesson man might learn from nature.

He told of a mother bear that threw herself in danger before a mighty grizzly that her young might be safe, an illustration of the mother instinct.

Using the Great Divide as an illustration of the mighty results that follow seemingly trivial actions, he drew a picture of the importance of a proper choice in life that was inspiring. He described the two small lakes across the road from each other, one sending its water to the Pacific ocean, the other emptying into the Atlantic. A member of the party took a cup of water from one and poured it into the other. This small action of transferring a few drops of water resulted in an entirely changed course and a different end to what would have been had the action not been performed. Rev. Mr. Creed made a strong plea for careful and proper training of children into the right course.

Cost o' Livin' Hits Katy; Meal Ticket Is Now Six-Bits

The housewife has her cares, the head-of-the-family is reminded of his expenses and even the little Chinese restaurant around the corner jangles with the grocer's bills to cash, even, but the Katy has been the last to be affected by the "high cost of living."

In future, four-bits will not stretch in Missouri, Kansas & Texas dining rooms as it has heretofore. The little blond girl at the counter will extract seventy-five cents from your wallet for the fifty-cent meals that have become famed as "Katy meals." Order for this change effective August 1, was issued out of the general office yesterday. With it went the information that the quality of the "cats" had to be cut, or the price raised.

SECOND ARREST IS MADE. Wells-Fargo Driver Is Taken in Custody at Lake Charles.

Lake Charles, La., July 20.—Another arrest in connection with the theft of $22,000 from the Wells-Fargo Express company last November, came today when Marshall Pearce, a 17-year-old Wells-Fargo driver, was taken into custody. He disclaimed any connection with the alleged robbery. Pearce is distantly related to A. E. Amy, arrested at Eunice, La., yesterday, charged with receiving stolen money as a result of the robbery.
